Heard of Hashing and would like to try it?

Hashing is a version of running similar to the old fashioned paper chase (or hare and hounds), but with a bit more of a pub-theme thrown in. We generally start and finish from a favourable Inn

Training shoes and a sense of humour is all you need to get started. The sheer brilliance of Hashing is the complete simplicity of it. You only need a hare to set the trail, and someone (runners) to follow.

That could be you!

Hashing is great fun and non-competitive

Clearly our intention is to have a running pack. We regular cover distances in our stride of between 5K–10K. We have one trail only which is there for everyone to follow. However, chaperones and separate walks aren't something we offer. Also in true hash tradition, we resist bureaucracy.

The NEW is an acronym for North East West, where we find some glorious Cotswold Countryside to run in. We meet every fortnight, gathering in good time for an 11am start – summer and winter.

Remember: a willingness to mix and socialize are a lot more important than running ability (but it helps).
